13. Briefly describe the stated mission of each sponsor and how the purpose of the trip relates to that mission:

Building on a strong foundation of science, partnership and demonstration, Conservation International empowers societies to responsibly and sustainably care for nature and global biodiversity for the wellbeing of humanity. The educational activities provided pursuant to this trip will focus on the role of targeted U.S. investment in international conservation efforts in support of Cl's mission and enhance U.S. economic and national security interests around the globe.

All-inclusive lodging also includes entrance fees, community visits, and field activities, but does not includes taxes.

18. Reason for selecting the location of the event or trip

Last year Congress passed the Defending Economic Livelihoods and Threatened Animals (DELTA) Act, legislation that specifically targets preservation of the Okavango Delta and the waterways and migrating wildlife that depend on it. Now law, the DELTA Act authorizes the U.S. Government to provide assistance for resource management and to combat illegal poaching and wildlife trafficking - deemed by Congress as national security threats to the United States. This trip will give Sr. Congressional staff a ground-level perspective on how the DELTA Act will help stabilize and preserve this large, remote and critically important region

20. Reason(s) for selecting hotel or other lodging facility:

Each specific lodge was chosen based on security concerns on the ground and proximity to those sites most important to accomplishing the educational purposes of the trip. Lodging close to these sites is quite limited and the chosen lodges were the best options available in close proximity to the sites that also permitted the group to stay together in a safe and secure hotel.

21. Describe how the daily expenses for lodging, meals, and other expenses provided to trip participants compares to the maximum per diem rates for official Federal Government travel:

Trip expenses exceed the Federal Government per diem rates in order to provide lodging that can accommodate the group in close proximity to sites that are essential to Congress' work and the objectives of the trip, while also ensuring safety.

22. Describe the type and class of transportation being provided. Indicate whether coach, business-class or first-class transportation will be provided. If first-class fare is being provided, please explain why first-class travel is necessary:

Commercial Bush flights are required because road travel would present safety or security risks and take a prohibitively long time (8+ hours).

Invitations Sent

Conservation International has invited the following staffers on a seven-day trip to Africa in light of their members' official responsibilities related to conservation matters. Further, Cl understands that the staffers invited have conservation issues or issues related to illicitly traded wildlife products in their portfolio.

Southern Africa Congressional Trip

Dates: August 19-26 (on ground)

Congressional Interest in the Region

Last year Congress passed the Defending Economic Livelihoods and Threatened Animals (DELTA) Act, legislation that specifically targets preservation of the Okavango Delta and the waterways and migrating wildlife that depend on it. Now law, the DELTA Act authorizes the U.S. Government to provide assistance for resource management and to combat illegal poaching and wildlife trafficking - deemed by Congress as national security threat. This trip will give Sr. Congressional staff a ground-level perspective on how the DELTA Act will help stabilize and preserve this large, remote and critically important region.

In passing the law, Senators specifically referenced the endangered wildlife in the Okavango and surrounding region:

- Senator Udall: "The Okavango River Delta is an unspoiled wilderness a delicate region of deep ecological, cultural, and economic importance to surrounding nations and to the world. It is home to some of the world's most iconic species and serves as a vital lifeline and watershed for over one million people throughout the region. But this diverse ecosystem is being threatened by industrial development and wildlife traffickers.
- Senator Portman: "I believe we must confront the threats to wildlife and natural resources around the world, and I'm pleased the Senate has unanimously approved this legislation to encourage the U.S. to develop a strategy to protect the Okavango River Delta in southern Africa. The Okavango Delta is a precious water resource that is home to more than one million people and serves as a critical habitat to some of the world's most endangered species that continue to face a variety of threats from wildlife traffickers, poachers, and others. I am proud to protect this important resource and the people, wildlife, and ecosystems that depend on it.

To provide a thorough understanding of the DELTA Act and the people, wildlife and landscape that Senators designed the legislation to impact, the detailed itinerary (below) was carefully put together. Each stage will transport congressional staff into areas within the Okavango Delta or that have a direct impact on the waterways and wildlife that traverse it, thereby providing a wholistic perspective of the ecosystem targeted by the DELTA Act. As Congress noted in the findings of the DELTA Act:

(1) The greater Okavango River Basin, which ranges from the highland plateau of Angola to northeastern Namibia and northern Botswana, and also provides critical natural resources that sustain wildlife in Zambia and Zimbabwe, is the largest freshwater watershed in southern Africa.

It should also be noted that the DELTA Act directs the Administration (State Department) to develop plans with local governments to preserve resources and wildlife essential to the health of the Okavango Delta. Hence, Congress has a stated interest in the future work required under this new law.

Considering the close proximity of wildlife and the illegal activity that Congress has targeted in the DELTA Act, lodging was selected to ensure safety of trip participants. As noted by Congressman Ed Royce when referencing the criminals who operate in the Okavango Delta region:

"These deadly groups undermine regional stability. They spread violence. They disrupt local governance."

Travel Day (Aug 18) Washington DC to Livingstone, Zambia

6:30AM-7:54 AM United flight #2254 Washington DC- Newark, NJ

(Aug 18)

10:40 – 8:05AM South African Airways Flight#204 Newark to Johannesburg

Day 1 (Aug 19) – Livingstone/Vic Falls, Zambia

12:20 PM South African Airways Flight #48 from Johannesburg to Livingstone,

Zambia arrives, clear customs.

1:30 – 2:30 PM Transfer to Avani Resort, check-in.

3:00 – 5:30 PM Visit Victoria Falls on the Zambezi River where we will hear an overview of the upcoming trip, including USG-supported conservation efforts in the region that further the US's security and economic interests.

Trip participants will also learn how the Zambezi, Africa's 4th largest river, is vital to the health of the Okavango Delta. One of the Zambezi's tributaries, the Cuando River flows into the Okavango Delta. Thus, on the first day of the trip, participants will get an immediate introduction into how a major upstream water source impacts the Okavango Delta and the entire region.

5:30 - 7:00 PM Welcome dinner.

Day 2 (Aug 20) - Chobe National Park, Botswana

6:30 – 11:00 AM Road transfer from Livingstone to Kasane (clear customs at border)

11:00 – 12:00 AM Check in to Cresta Mowana Safari Resort, Kasane, Botswana

12:00 - 3:00 PM Lunch with Rund Jansen, Executive Secretary of Gaborone Declaration For Sustainability in Africa to hear about the Elephant Protection Initiative

(EPI)

The Elephant Protection Initiative (EPI) is an Africa-led solution to the elephant crisis. Conservation International, along with Stop Ivory, are Co-Secretariats of the Initiative, which includes 18 African nations and 26 leading international NGOs and IGOs. EPI works to support and deliver upon two key international agreements: the 2010 African Elephant Action Plan - signed by all 38 African countries with remaining elephant populations - and the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

3:00 - 6:00 PM

Afternoon site visit with Ruud Jansen to witness firsthand the Elephant prides benefitting from EPI and Government of Botswana conservation effort. These elephant herds migrate hundreds of miles, passing into and through the Okavango Delta.

7:00 - 8:30 PM

Dinner with Ruud Jansen and further discussion on Elephant Protection Initiative and US Government efforts to protect elephants and other species in the region through Congressionally-initiated USAID and State Department programs to combat wildlife trafficking and the USFWS Multinational Species Conservation Fund and END Wildlife Trafficking Act.

Day 3 (Aug 21) - Chobe National Park, Botswana

6:30 – 10:30 AM

Early morning site visit with Ruud Jansen to continue the viewing and discussion of the elephant prides and the conservation efforts in the region supported by the USFWS Multinational Species Conservation Fund. Many of these conservation efforts will be enhanced by provisions in the DELTA Act.

11:00 - 1:00 PM

Lunch and discussion with Julia Levin, Country Director from Conservation South Africa.

> Conservation International has been piloting work with communities to eliminate the sources of conflict between cattle farmers and wildlife protection and restore traditional rangelands. Conservation International is now expanding this successful program to Botswana.

2:00 - 5:00 PM

Afternoon site visit with Julia Levin visiting communities and wildlife rangelands to better understand the conflicts and solutions from a field perspective. Discuss how the DELTA Act is intended to assist many of these communities in better managing their natural resources and assist them in combatting wildlife trafficking.

Dinner and presentation by WCS Central Africa Regional Director, Emma Stokes, regarding the successful model(s) of USG investment in CARPE.

> The Central Africa Regional Program for the Environment (CARPE) is a long-term initiative of the United

6:30 – 8:30 PM

States Government to promote sustainable forest management, biodiversity conservation, and climate change mitigation in the Congo Basin through increased local, national, and regional natural resource management capacity. Through its funding of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) and the U.S. Agency for International Development, Congress has consistently supported CARPE since its inception.

Day 4 (Aug 22) – Caprivi Region, Namibia

Note: Day 4 and Day 5 of the trip will bring Congressional Staff to the Caprivi Region of Namibia, a critical area for the Okavango Delta. The Okavango River flows directly through Namibia's Caprivi Strip, carrying 2.5 trillion gallons of water per year. Without this river, the Okavango Delta – located just downstream – would cease to exist, and substantial amounts of wildlife would perish. The DELTA Act commits U.S. support to resource management, particularly water. These two days will give staff a good perspective on the area and the opportunity to speak with people who have a substantial impact on the Okavango Delta region.

9:00 - 10:00 AM

Transfer to Kasane airport

10:00 - 10:30 AM

Bush plane flight Kasane- Katima Mulilo Airport (clear customs)

Transfer to Lianshulu Bush Lodge, Zambezi Region, Namibia

12:00 - 1:00 PM

Lunch

Afternoon site visit to Mundumu National Park with Chris Weaver, director of WWF Namibia and Dr. Mike Knight, WWF Transboundry Kaza Coordinator.

This park has seen over the past years a great rebound in wildlife population and is undoubtedly connected to the communal conservancy program that has generated a change of local attitudes toward the wildlife. At Namibia's independence in 1990, this area was largely devoid of wildlife as it had been subjected to extensive poaching during the war for independence. Just prior to independence, communities in the area were further alienated towards wildlife when the outgoing South African Conservation Ministry proclaimed Mudumu National Park without consulting with communities. Consequently, surrounding communities were highly hostile towards wildlife in the early 1990s. This hostility was gradually broken down by the local NGO, Integrated Rural Development and Nature Conservation (IRDNC), who with the support of the USAID funded Living In a Finite Environment (LIFE) Project, introduced the concept of community game guards to local traditional authorities and communities. In 1996, the Namibia Nature Conservation Ordinance was amended to allow for the creation of communal conservancies, which in-turn, paved the way for communities to become benefactors and stewards of wildlife. Today, the Mudumu National Park is surrounded by communal conservancies, resulting what some described as a "biological desert" in the early 1990s into a productive national park with an abundance of wildlife today.

7:00 - 8:30 PM Dinner and further discussion with Chris Weaver and Dr. Mike Knight on the Mundumu National Park visit, especially as it relates US

Government investment in the region via the Congressionally initiated

USAID Biodiversity program.

Day 5 (Aug 23) – Caprivi Region, Namibia

6:30 – 7:15 AM Road Transfer to Mashi Conservancy.

7:15 – 9:45 AM Site visit the Mashi Conservancy with John Kamwi and Janet Matota from IRDNC to continue the site visits to communities directly supported by KAZA TFCA.

9:45 - 10:30 AM Road Transfer to lodge.

11:30 - 2:00 PM Lunch and discussion with Nyambe from the Kavango Zambezi

Transfrontier Conservation Area (KAZA TFCA)

KAZA TFCA was established to sustainably manage the Kavango Zambezi ecosystem, its heritage and cultural resources based on best conservation and tourism models for the socio-economic wellbeing of the communities and other stakeholders in and around the eco-region through harmonization of policies, strategies and practices.

3:00 - 6:30 PM Visit community sites directly supported by KAZA TFCA This will enable staff to speak in-person with communities that have a direct upstream impact on the Okavango Delta.

7:30 – 9:00 PM Dinner and further discussion on the work KAZA TFCA is doing in the region, especially as it relates US Government involvement and decision making.

Day 6 (Aug 24) – Okavango Delta

NOTE: Much of Day 6 and Day 7 will be spent in and around the Khwai Concession. The Khwai Concession formed by the local Khwai villagers and is managed by the Khwai Development Trust. The area used to be a hunting concession but is now actively managed as a conservation area. Congressional staff will have an opportunity to speak with eco-tourism managers about how Congress – through the DELTA Act and other tools – can help bolster and advance the work to protect the area.

8:00 – 11:00 AM Flight Lianshulu Bush Lodge- Katima Mulilo (clear customs)-Kasane

11:30 - 12:00 PM Transfer and check in Capture Africa Mobile Camp, Okavango Delta,

Botswana - Khwai Concession Area

12:30 - 1:00 PM

Lunch with Mr. Phera Ramoeli, executive secretary of OKACOM (the Permanent Okavango River Basin Water Commission). Mr. Ramoeli will present on the efforts geared towards joint management of this globally important shared watershed as well as the impact of the recently enacted Defending Economic Livelihoods and Threatened Animals (DELTA) Act.

Signed into law in December 2018, the Defending Economic Livelihoods and Threatened Animals (DELTA) Act, aims to promote sustainable economic growth through trans-boundary conservation programs in the Okavango River Basin. This DELTA Act directs the Department of State and the U.S. Agency for International Development to work with Angola, Botswana, Namibia, and neighboring countries to develop a strategy to: (1) promote responsible natural resource and wildlife management practices in the greater Okavango River Basin, (2) protect migration routes of elephants and other threatened wildlife species, (3) combat wildlife poaching and trafficking, (4) address local health needs, and (5) catalyze economic growth.

During the first-hand excursions OKACOM and Mr. Motsumi will discuss the potential impact of the DELTA Act and how the conservation and policy strategies being enacted in the region are critical for maintaining this incredible ecosystem.

2:30 - 4:30 PM

Afternoon mokoro boat-based site visit of the Okavango River Basin. Mokoro canoes allow us to access more remote areas that are not accessible by vehicle, highlighting the regional challenges and gaining a deeper understanding of the work of OKACOM, especially as it relates to the DELTA Act.

6:30 - 8:30 PM

Dinner with The Nature Conservancy (TNC) Okavango Director, Mr. Sekgowa Motsumi to discuss the conservation efforts of focusing on the upper catchment in Angola where more than 95% of the water comes from. TNC is implementing a program that will ensure the livelihoods of the local population are improved from the conservation of the Okavango Basin resources as well as ensuring that its status as a global public resource is maintained.

Day 7 (Aug 25) - Okavango Delta

6:30 - 10:30 AM

Site visit by boat of wilderness area that is not accessible by vehicle with the intent of diving deeper into the Okavango Region, and exploring further into the bush to understand better the vast conservation issues of this unique region.

11:30 - 1:00 PM

Mr. Phera Ramoeli from OKACOM and Mr. Sekgowa Motsumi from TNC who will offer a presentation with more details related to TNC's work in Angola where the water comes from within the context of source water protection. The benefits of such interventions flow downstream to benefit the entire watershed particularly the Okavango Delta. TNC's work on the ground as well as the analytics being done, will serve as a proof of concept to inform both national (Angola, Botswana, and Namibia), regional (OKCOM), and U.S. DELTA Act investments, policies/programs in the region.

2:30 – 5:30 PM Afternoon site visit of the Okavango Delta Region to gain a terrestrial perspective on the conservation challenges of the region.

6:30 – 8:00 PM

Final farewell dinner with Sekgowa Motsumi, to include a discussion of all that we have seen and how the US Government involvement and decision making can greatly support these important and critical conservation efforts.

Day 8 (Aug 26) - Travel day

9:30 - 11:00 AM Bush flight from Khwai to Maun International Airport

2:05-4:05 PM Air Botswana Flight #211: Maun to Johannesburg

6:30PM - 6:25AM South African Airways flight #209: Johannesburg to Washington DC (Aug 27)
